Consultation on the Future of Church Structures in Scotland

The Holy See has asked the Bishops of Scotland to reflect on how the structures of the Church in our country can best serve her mission in the years ahead, specifically whether the present situation of eight dioceses is suitable and sustainable.

Two possible pathways are being proposed for careful discernment: developing deeper cooperation and the sharing of resources across dioceses within our present structures; or the merging of some dioceses.

The Bishops' Conference invites us to reflect prayerfully on these questions:

1 Where do we see good examples of mission in our parishes, deanery, diocese and country?

2 Where does mission need to develop or even begin? What are the barriers to better mission and what can encourage it?

3 Does the present structure of eight dioceses in Scotland support mission? Does our diocese already have all that it needs? Would it help if we were to share resources with another diocese or dioceses? Would it help if our diocese merged with another diocese?

Alongside them stand grandparents, siblings, wider family members and friends, all carrying grief that can so easily go unseen.
