Jesuit Missions upcoming initiative for Advent, Beyond the Headlines.

Each day we are bombarded with news headlines. The War in Ukraine, the economic crisis, COVID 19, and climate change are but a few. As important as these headlines are, the dominance of a few issues tends to squeeze out other important topics, many of which are impacting on our brothers and sisters in the developing world in untold ways. This Advent we are asking you to consider these forgotten crises. South Sudan is the world's newest county and one plagued by ongoing violence, hunger and the impact of climate change. Ethiopia has experienced a civil war in Tigray since 2018, which has taken a terrible toll on the country and its people.

Act now to learn about these forgotten communities. By signing up to Beyond the Headlines: 7 days of Advent you will be taking part in an initiative which will allow you to receive daily updates with reflections, information, and ways you can act to create a more just world.

You can sign up by using this link <https://jesuitmissions.org.uk/beyond-the-headlines/> Resources will be available in the next few days.

Walking together in Advent: Listening to the voices of Heroes and Heroines of the Infancy Narratives in the Gospel and voices from the Synod experience

Father James Hanvey, S.J.
Ignatian Spirituality Centre, 35 Scott Street, 7.30 – 9 p.m.

Monday 12 December: Mary and Elizabeth and Womens Voices

Tuesday 13 December; Joseph – Fatherhood and the Church

Thursday 15 December; Simeon and Anna – Voices of the elderly

Each evening Fr Hanvey will give a presentation followed by a listening exercise and time for prayer.

Fr James Hanvey SJ is Secretary for the Service of the Faith, General Curia of the Society of Jesus, Rome. He is also the co-chair of the commission on Spirituality for the Synod of Bishops with Sr Nathalie Becquart (undersecretary). He helped to animate synod conversations amongst the Jesuit Parishes in Scotland and England during 2021. Walking together in Advent is an opportunity to prepare for Christmas and to gather together some of the fruits of the synod conversations and experience and to help focus our journeying together as we move forward

A Christmas Carol Singing Event in the Ogilvie Hall will be held on Dec.11th at 3.30 - 5p.m.with light refreshments to follow. All are welcome!
