We are rather short of hymn books, and the ones we have are now out of print; so please share when necessary. If you have taken one home by accident it will help us to have it returned.

Foodbank

The priorities for this month are: tinned tomatoes, tinned fruit, tinned or pkt custard, UHT milk, and diluting juice. Ladies' deodorant, toothpaste, toothbrushes, and shampoo would be greatly appreciated. Thanks again for your generosity!

Thank You!

The Public Life Group of St Aloysius would like to thank Parishoners who came to see the film for Lent (Jesus of Nazareth). Donations received for our Restoration Fund totalled £249.85. Thank you to all who donated.

Gina Lowe will be hosting a Karaoke and we would be grateful for any raffle prizes you may wish to donate. All proceeds to the Restoration Fund. Please pass to Gina or to the office. Thank you!

The Spirituality of Synodality

Synodality is a way of doing church that emphasises things like listening, shared leadership responsibilities between ordained and lay faithful, and reading and responding to the signs of the times. One of those helping the church think about how synodality is Fr James Hanvey sj. Fr Hanvey is a theologian and serves as the Secretary for the Service of Faith at the Jesuit Curia in Rome. He is also a member of the Vatican commission supporting the work of the worldwide synod, including a committee which examines the spirituality of synodality. That group has just released a document on biblical resources for synodality: Where in Scripture do we hear the call to this way of doing church? In a podcast, host Mike Jordan Laskey asks Fr Hanvey about this work and how Ignatian spirituality might contribute to our building a synodal church together:
